

had a place in food that adults enjoyed as well. (16) Today, yams encrusted with marshmallows can be found on many Thanksgiving tables, and Rocky Road ice cream with marshmallows can be found in many freezers.

(17) In 1948, a new process made the manufacture of marshmallows even more quickly and simpler. (18) The mixture is now pushed through tubes, after which it is cut, cooled and packaged. (19) Today's marshmallows are mass-produced and sold in bags. (20) They are so popular, that Americans now eat more than 90 million pounds of marshmallows a year. (21) Some brands you might see in the grocery store include Jet-Puffed, Campfire and Kidd. (22) Today's marshmallows do not contain any of the marsh mallow sap that was originally part of the recipe.

1. What change, if any, should be made to sentence 2?
  - A. Delete the comma after however
  - B. Delete the comma after treat
  - C. Insert commas after fluffy and white
  - D. Make no change

2. What is the most effective way to revise sentence 4?
  - A. As early as 2000 B.C., ancient Egyptians made marshmallows by extracting sap from the root of the mallow, a shrub-like plant that grew in marshes.
  - B. As early as 2000 B.C., early marshmallows were made by ancient Egyptians from the root sap of a shrub-like plant called the "marsh mallow."
  - C. Early marshmallows were extracted from the root of a shrub-like plant called the marsh mallow by ancient Egyptians around 2000 B.C.